

RIW Expands Litigation Capabilities With Arrival of Meghan E. Hall

By RIW on August 14, 2023

RIW is pleased to announce that Meghan E. Hall has joined the firm as an associate in the Litigation Department.

Meghan represents individuals and corporate clients on a wide range of litigation matters, including land use, real estate, complex commercial and employment disputes. She guides clients through all stages of the litigation process from pre-litigation counseling to jury and bench trials, arbitrations, mediations and appeals.

On joining the firm, Meghan said, "I am thrilled to join RIW and bring my litigation experience to serve our clients. I look forward to contributing to the firm's continued success."

"We are so happy to welcome Meghan to our Litigation team," said RIW's President and Litigation Department Chair Bradley L. Croft. "Her depth of knowledge across several areas of litigation and her energetic and practical approach to problem solving will be a tremendous asset to our clients and to our firm."

Prior to joining RIW, Meghan handled cases at all stages of the litigation process at a boutique firm in Boston. She is a graduate of Assumption College (now Assumption University) and Suffolk University Law School. During law school, she was a legal intern for the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office.
