

Commercial Real Estate

APPROACH

Ruberto, Israel & Weiner's Commercial Real Estate Group provides various legal services to individuals and companies engaging in commercial real estate transactions. Our clients represent a cross-section of industries and are based locally and nationally.

Our Commercial Real Estate team is known for our straightforward and practical approach. We focus on completing transactions in our client's best interests, ensuring efficiency and effectiveness. Our goal is to develop comprehensive solutions in a timely manner that will satisfy our client's business objectives and meet their financial expectations.

TEAM

Our Commercial Real Estate team is well-versed in local, state, and national real estate laws and knowledgeable in the market. We have dealt with diverse transactions and issues in all aspects of real estate leasing, ownership, management, development, maintenance, and transfers. We put together the right team of lawyers for each client's unique circumstances. In so doing, we provide the expertise and value that our clients expect.

TITLES

We review title to property; interpret, advocate, and seek to resolve title disputes; present petitions before the land court to quiet title; and issue title insurance policies.

BUSINESS COUNSEL

We advise and consult on business issues facing real estate owners, including ownership entity and structure, succession planning, financing possibilities, and market strategies.

LITIGATION

In conjunction with our Litigation Practice Group, we advise and represent clients in litigation when necessary to prosecute and defend claims relating to real property. These claims can range from contract or construction disputes, appeal of municipal approvals, title claims, enforcement of financing documentation, and commercial lease disputes and eviction.
